Our 3.9% session ale is brewed with an all pale malt bill and then hopped with a blend of New Zealand and US hops. Our benchmark beer promises a burst of zesty aromas, uplifting grapefruit flavours and a subtle lemongrass finish.

Eight different malts were used to make this balanced Mild. Hints of caramel and chocolate are layered in this modern interpretation of a classic British style. A rich dark colour with a dry finish.

This Pale Ale delivers a balanced harmony of citrus, pine, and subtle spice. A crisp malt backbone supports notes of grapefruit, floral resin, and a touch of earthiness, leading to a clean, refreshing finish. Classic, flavourful, and endlessly drinkable.

Named after a classic car owned by the boss's father, Lagonda has been a house beer since 1997. The beer was originally designated an IPA but we feel pale ale better reflects current beer definitions. Pale in colour, the malts provide a sturdy body on which is built a citrus and floral hop character.

Deep amber in colour, a malt base of toffee, caramel, biscuit and toasted nuts; intermingles perfectly with a measured hoppiness giving notes of tangerine marmalade and citrus with a lasting and supreme finish of grapefruit zest bitterness.

Our deep, rich and silky stout blended seamlessly with blackcurrant. Adding fruity complex layers to a cult classic.
